MAURICE FLANAGAN, Esq., of Castleknock,

Greeting, know ye, that we, reposing special trust and confidence in your fidelity, prudence, and care, have appointed, and by these presents do appoint you and every of you jointly and severally our justices to keep our peace in our county of Dublin, and to keep and cause to be kept, all ordinances and statutes made for the good of our peace, and for the conservation of the same, and for the quiet rule and government of our people in all and every the articles thereof in our said county (as well within liberties as without), according to the force, form, and effect thereof; and to chastise and punish all persons offending against the form of those ordinances and statutes, or any of them in the county aforesaid, as according to the form of those ordinances and statutes shall be fit to be done; and to cause to come before you, or any of you, all those persons who shall threaten any of our people in their person, or with burning their houses, to find sufficient security for the peace, or for their good behaviour towards us and our people; and if they shall refuse to find such security, then to cause them to be safely kept in our prisons until they have found such security; we have also assigned, and by these presents do assign you or any two or more of you, of whom the aforesaid

MAURICE FLANAGAN

We will shall be one, our justices in and throughout the county aforesaid (as well within the liberties as without), to inquire by the oath of good and lawful men of our county aforesaid,

said, and by all other lawful ways and means, by whom the truth of the matter may be better known of all and all manner of treasons, murders, manslaughters, burnings, unlawful assemblies, felonies, robberies, witchcrafts, enchantments, sorceries, magic arts, trespasses, forestallings, regrutings, engrossings, and extortions whatsoever, and of all and singular other misdeeds and offences of which the Justices of our Peace can or ought lawfully to inquire, by whomsoever and howsoever done or committed, or that hereafter shall there happen howsoever to be done, or attempted in the county aforesaid; and also of those who presume by unlawful assemblies, to be disturbers of our peace and of our people within our said county, and also of all those who, in the county aforesaid, have either gone or ridden, or that hereafter shall presume to go or ride in companies with armed force against our peace, to the disturbance of our peace; and also of all those who in like manner have lain in wait, or hereafter shall presume to lie in wait to maim or kill our people; and also of all innholders, and of all and singular other persons who have offended, or attempted, or hereafter shall presume to offend or attempt in the abuse of weights or measures, or in the sale of victuals against the form of the ordinances and statutes, or any of them, in that behalf made for the common good of our kingdom of Ireland, and of our people thereof in the county aforesaid; as also of all sheriffs, bailiffs, seneschals, constables, gaolers, and other officers whatsoever, who in the execution of their offices about the premises, or any of them, have unlawfully demeaned themselves, or that hereafter shall presume unlawfully to demean themselves, or have been, or hereafter shall be careless, remiss, or negligent in the county aforesaid; and of all and singular articles and circumstances, and all other things whatsoever, by whomsoever and howsoever done or perpetrated in the county aforesaid, or that shall hereafter there happen howsoever to be done or attempted in any wise, more fully concerning the truth of the premises, or any of them, and to inspect all indictments whatsoever, so before you or any of you taken or to be taken, or made before others late Justices of the Peace in the county aforesaid, and not as yet determined, and to make and continue the process thereupon against all and singular persons so indicted or which hereafter shall happen to be indicted before you, until they be apprehended, render themselves, or be outlawed; and to hear and determine all and singular the matters aforesaid (treason excepted), according to the laws and statutes of our kingdom of Ireland, as in the like case hath been used, and ought to be done, and to chastise and punish the said persons offending, and every of them for their offences, by fines, ransoms, amerciaments, forfeitures, or otherwise, as ought and hath been used to be done, according to the laws and customs of our kingdom of Ireland, or the form of the ordinances or statutes aforesaid; and to discharge our goods of all prisoners therein detained and imprisoned for felony: Provided always, that if a case of difficulty upon the determination of any of the premises, shall happen to arise before you, or any two or more of you, then do not you, or any two or more of you, proceed to give judgment therein, except it be in the presence of one of our Justices of one or other bench, or one of the barons of our Exchequer, or of one of our council learned in the laws. And we therefore command you and every of you, that you diligently attend the keeping of the peace, ordinances, and statutes, and all and singular other the premises, and at certain days and places which you, or any two or more of you, as aforesaid, shall in that behalf appoint, you make inquiries upon the premises, and hear and determine all and singular the premises (except as before excepted), and perform and fulfil the same in form aforesaid, doing therein that which to justice appertaineth according to the laws and customs of our said kingdom of Ireland, saving to us the amerciaments and other things to us thereof belonging: We also command by virtue of these presents our sheriff of our county aforesaid, that at certain days and places which you, or any two or more of you shall make known to him as aforesaid, he cause to come before you or any two or more of you as aforesaid, such and so many good and lawful men of his bailiwick (as well within liberties as without) by whom the truth of the matter in the premises may be better known and inquired of: lastly, we have assigned you the aforesaid Right Honourable Thomas Earl of Howth, Keeper of the Rolls of our peace in our said county, and, therefore, you shall cause to be brought before you and your said companions at the said days and places, the writs, precepts, processes, and indictments aforesaid, that the same may be inspected, and by a due course of law determined as aforesaid.

Witness our Lieutenant General and General Governor of our said kingdom of Ireland, at Dublin the 8th day of November in the 24th year of our reign.

(signed) Ralph S. Cusack,
Clerk of the Crown and Hansper.

MATHEW McDONAGH

process thereupon against all and singular persons so indicted or which hereafter shall happen to be indicted before you, until they be apprehended, render themselves, or be outlawed; and to hear and determine all and singular the matters aforesaid (treason excepted), according to the laws and statutes of our kingdom of Ireland, as in the like case hath been used, and ought to be done, and to chastise and punish the said persons offending, and every of them for their offences, by fines, ransoms, amerciaments, forfeitures, or otherwise, as ought and hath been used to be done, according to the laws and customs of our kingdom of Ireland, or the form of the ordinances or statutes aforesaid; and to discharge our gaols of all prisoners therein detained and imprisoned for felony. Provided always, that if a case of difficulty upon the determination of any of the premises, shall happen to arise before you, or any two or more of you, then do not you, or any two or more of you, proceed to give judgment therein, except it be in the presence of one of our justices of one or other bench, or one of the Barons of our Exchequer, or one of our council learned in the laws. And we therefore command you and every of you, that you diligently attend the keeping of the peace, ordinances, and statutes, and all and singular other the premises, and at certain days and places which you, or any two or more of you, as aforesaid, shall in that behalf appoint, you make inquiries upon the premises, and hear and determine all and singular the premises (except as before excepted), and perform and fulfil the same in form aforesaid, doing therein that which to justice appertaineth according to the laws and customs of our said kingdom of Ireland: saving to us the amerciaments and other things to us thereof belonging. We also command by virtue of these presents our sheriff of our county aforesaid, that at certain days and places which you, or any two or more of you shall make known to him as aforesaid, he cause to come before you or any two or more of you as aforesaid, such and so many good and lawful men of his bailiwick (as well within liberties as without) by whom the truth of the matter in the premises may be better known and inquired of. Lastly, we have assigned you the aforesaid Ulick John Marquis of Clanricarde, Keeper of the Rolls of our peace in our said county, and therefore you shall cause to be brought before you and your said companions at the said days and places, the writs, precepts, processes, and indictments aforesaid, that the same may be inspected, and by a due course of law determined as aforesaid.

Witness our Lieutenant General and General Governor of our said Kingdom of Ireland, at Dublin the 13th day of December, in the 22d year of our reign.
